Many Prisoners Faced Burgess This Morning

Court this morning was unusually heavy. More than $170.00 was placed in forfeits and many of the persons arrested were unable to attend on account of having to go to work. Owing to this fact, several cases were held over until 8 o'clock this evening.

John Balenko dropped a flask of whiskey on the sidewalk in front of Brown's jewelry store Saturday night. The bottle was broken and the spirits spilled and Balenko kicked the glass out in the street. He was arrested instanter by Street Foreman Frazier and requested to post a ten spot. At the hearing he plead guilty and was fined $1.00 and costs.

Tom Sarapel was given a similar fine for the same offense.

Ed. Carlson and Swan Doll plead guilty to a charge of drunkenness and promised to be good. They each paid a fine of $1.00 and costs.

The costs were divided between Mike Felko and Frank Storis. Storis tried to make Felko out disorderly in speaking ugly to his wife, but the evidence could not be sustained.

John Randa was fined $2.09 and costs or three days to the street. He took the street labor.

George H. Whitney, Jr. forfeited $5.00 on a charge of drunkenness, for non appearance.

BOARD OF CHARITIES EMPLOYS A NURSE

On Saturday last the Board of Charities, which is a committee from the local Board of Trade, engaged the services of a nurse for the summer months. For some time past, there has been a diligent search going on to locate a proper party for this responsible position, and as a result, the committee is to be congratulated in finally arranging with Mrs. Jeannette Kelly of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Kelly is a graduate nurse and is now and has been for some years engaged by the city schools in the same capacity. She has had a wide experience in this special field of services, which peculiarly fits her for the special work required among the Monessen poor.

During her stay in Monessen, she will be available to every physician needing her services. Her headquarters will be at the Monessen Trust company. Mr. Tanzer, president of the Board of Trade, will make arrangements to receive calls for her services, and will dedicate one of the office rooms, where during certain hours of the day, the nurse may be concerning her work. Special efforts are being put forth to make her labor as efficient as possible.

Our local physicians have endorsed the need of a public nurse to care for the sick children during the summer months. Past experience has proven the life saving worth of such services. The work is wholly supported out of the public funds of the charitably inclined. This is the only source of revenue. Thus the "Board" will welcome the generous gifts of the people to finance this and many other needy undertakings. All money should be given to Alfred Tanzer, of the Monessen Savings & Trust company.

—The carload of western horses for Ed. K. Lane, the well known horse dealer, arrived today and will be placed on sale at once, under auction, to the highest bidder.

Dog Catcher Soaks Man For Interfering

And verily the dog catchers do have their troubles. Fantine and Tige seem to have friends and many dogs seem very valuable when the catcher goes about the town, but the owners don't seem to want to pay the license charged up against the dogs.

Nick Hughes, one of the dog catchers, was the prosecutor in a peculiar case before Burgess Dunlap this morning. Saturday, Hughes attempted to arrest the unlicensed canine of John Defan of Knox avenue, and there was a neat little tragedy enacted right on the streets in front of the Union hotel.

Defan, according to all the evidence, was in the hotel when the dog wagon happened along, but the dog was out on the street without a license. Hughes spied the dog and threw the whip about his neck and the canine let out a yelp which brought Defan out of the hotel. Defan informed the officer that the dog belonged to him and demanded that his property be released, but Hughes held onto the dog and Defan grabbed the whip. Mr. Helzlsouer told Defan that the dog was in the hands of the dog catcher and that he had a right to take it, as it had no license, but Defan insisted that the dog be let loose. Hughes then hauled off and struck Defan in the face, cutting his upper lip to such an extent that nine stitches were required to close the wound.

He was in court this morning badly bandaged with Attorney Daniel Reamer to defend him. He put up the defense that he did not know the man was dog catcher and that he thought his dog was being stolen to be sold. Burgess Dunlap dismissed the charge of interferring with an officer and placed a charge against Defan of keeping a dog without a license and fined him $1.00 for the license, $1.00 fine and the costs amounting to $2.00.

Aside from this the dog catchers have had no end of trouble. Twenty two canines were captured and placed in the pound at Donner and Second street and some persons unknown at the present time pulled a board off the building, permitting the dogs to escape. It seems that the unlicensed dogs about town have friends who insist that they be kept without license, but a watchman has been placed at the building, and if the parties who allow the canines to escape come before the burgess, the fine will be heavy.

INCORRIGIBLE LAD PAROLED, NOW HOME

Joe Widzeswoski, the fifteen year old boy from Third street, who entered the Monessen Hardware store and stole a bicycle from the show window, and who was remanded to Juvenile court by Squire Watkins, was remanded back to his mother and placed under parole. The judge decided he would give the boy another chance.

The mother of this child has six other children, this boy being the oldest and she has a hard time getting along. The husband and father deserted the family and two of the boys have caused the mother no end of trouble. If the older boy does not do better he will again be summoned before the Juvenile court and will be sent to a reformatory.

Local Motorist Had Narrow Escape

While returning home last night about nine o'clock J. Laymen and his motor cycle collided with a horse and buggy on the Speers road on the other side of the river and considerable damage was done. Mr. Laymen was flung from the cycle and so badly injured that he could hardly get home. It was a headon collission and Mr. Layman's legs were both injured and he was bruised about the face and shoulders. The leg of the horse was broken, but the driver in the buggy was not injured. Mr. Layman claims that the man was asleep when the collission took place and that the horse was evidently wandering along on the wrong side of the road as Layman was on his own side. He claims the machine was moving at about fifteen miles an hour. He said the rig was from West Newton and was owned by a man by the name of Williams. The horse was so badly injured that it had to be shot.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Zollars of 14 Schoonmaker avenue, are the proud parents of a fine ten pound son which arrived at the home Sunday. Mother and baby are fine.

Twins Arrive At Oneida Street Home

—Mr. and Mrs. William Umkel of Oneida street are rejoicing exceedingly. The stork arrived at their home Saturday night and left twin babies. The Kiss is Criminal

About the last thing that could be classed in the cruelty line, we opined, was a kiss, but a New York judge has found a case where a kiss is a cruelty. No, it was not cruelty to the fair kissee; nor was it to the kisser. But, said the honorable judge, it was cruelty to the wife of the kisser, who had to stand by and watch her husband imprint a smack upon another woman's lips. The judge is right, all right.

Probably there are few wives who could imagine more cruel cruelty than being the unhappy bystander while their rival is getting what the law says belong to her "until death or the divorce judge do us part." While we're thinking about this subject of cruelty to wives, let us ask ourselves a few questions:

Isn't it cruelty to a wife for her husband to overflow with chivalry to his neighbor's wife and be the stone-age brute with his own?

To pass eight-hour working laws for all other women and expect his own to work from the ring of the alarm clock to mending his last sock at night?

To be too "sleepy and tired" to take his wife to the movies, but in perfect condition to play cards or shoot pool with the "bunch" until all hours of the night?

Oh yes, there are lots of ways a fellow can be cruel to friend wife without beating her over the head with a club.

Give Him a Fair Trial

"I beg the American people to save my husband's life, because he is innocent."—Mrs. Leo M. Frank.

This is far the strongest appeal that could be made for Frank. Not one in one hundred thousand of the American people read the evidence in the Frank case, and public opinion as to guilt or innocense is merely guess work. A jury convicted, and lower court, intermediate courts and the highest of all courts have not overturned that verdict of guilty. So far as general knowledge of the testimony is concerned, there is not strong foundation for belief in innocence.

But what the American people do know is that he did not have a fair trial. This is enough for the American people. The life of a man, guilty or innocent, is about to be taken because of mob sentiment that overpowered jury and judge. All Americans know this, and to not be stirred by it would mean that Americans look upon the constitution of the United States as a scrap of paper.

"Save him! He's innocent!" is the wife's plea.

"Save him! He hasn't had a fair trial!" should be the demand of the American citizenry.

THE WORLD'S MACCABEES IN CONVENTION

Every World's Maccabee in the United States and Canada is interested in the great convention which is being held in New York City today at the Waldorf-Astoria. This convention is being held in the interests of the first Woman's Association of the country, with local branches throughout the United States and Canada. The state of Pennsylvania is represented by the great commander, Miss Nellie E. Lounsbury, of Warren, great record keeper, Miss Minnie E. Burgin of Philadelphia, also Mrs. Fanny R. Sloan of Pittsburgh, Miss Mayme Myers of Greensburg, Mrs. Ellen L. Garrity of Scranton and Mrs. Minnie B. Evans of Philadelphia.

At this convention the election of Supreme officers will take place and many important measures will be presented. Such a fine record has been made for the past term, extending from 1911-1914 inclusive, that every state convention has endorsed the plans and administration. Miss Rina M. West, the founder of the Association, has an excellent report to present. The net gains from May 1, 1909 to May 1, 1915, has amounted to over 40,000 benefit members, which indicates the prosperous condition of the Association, and the net gain for 1915 to date is 5,000 benefit members.

During the past four years, the interest earnings on bond investments amounted to $1,058,275.75, and the assets on hand to protect contracts reached nearly eight and a half million dollars. Over twelve million dollars was paid out in death and disability benefits, every draft for which was personally signed by Miss West. This order is not connected in any way with the Ladies of the Modern Maccabees.

Local officers and members are elated over the progress of their work and when their representatives return, a full report will be given by them of the features of this progressive meeting. The success which this society has attained is attributed to the harmony and co-operation existing in the individual organizations of which there are nearly 3,000. Educational campaigns are being constantly carried on whereby each worker may become efficient and through this efficiency each department will be enabled to work to the best advantage for the Association. This promises to be the most important convention ever recorded in the creditable history of this association, and is the beginning of a still greater benefit order for women in the United States and Canada.

A Knight of the Garter.

A knight of the Garter dressed in the regalia is an imposing sight. He wears a blue velvet mantle with a star embroidered on the left breast. His trunk hose, stockings and shoes are white, his hood and surcoat crimson. The garter, of dark blue velvet edged with gold and bearing the motto "Honi soit qui mal y pense" ("Evil to him who evil thinks"), also in gold, is buckled about the left leg below the knee. The heavy golden collar consists of twenty-six pieces, each in the form of a garter, bearing the motto, and from it hangs the "St. George," a badge which represents St. George on horseback encountering the dragon. The "lesser George" is a smaller badge attached to a blue ribbon worn over the left shoulder. The star of the order consists of eight points, within which is the cross of St. George, encircled by the garter.

Poor Gas.

Some men were riding in the smoker end of a Pullman car recently when one of them referred in a rather uncomplimentary way to the gas supply that was dished up in his home town.

"Yours may be bad enough," reflectively commented a party named Jones, "but I want to say right here that we have the worst gas of any town in the United States."

"That is saying a whole lot," returned the first speaker. "Do you really mean it?"

"You just bet a hundred that I mean it!" was the vigorous rejoinder of Jones. "Every morning when we go to cook breakfast we have to pour kerosene on the gas to start the fire in the gas stove."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

A Tongue Twister.

Do you read by sight or sound? Do you skim the sense or pronounce the words as you go? Inaudibly, but consciously? There are many readers who read by the ear, and when this writer had written the sentence about Wick (there was an election there)—"Wick is rich in Pictish relics"—he leaned back and tried to whisper it, thinking of the next. "Wick is rich in Pictish relics." Say it three times quickly.—London Mail.

Truth or Fiction?

When Captain Jabez Bebee of Marblehead launched his new brig he named her the Jane Bebee after his wife, who had sailed with him for many a voyage and was almost as good a sailor as he was. The first voyage of the new brig was to a certain South American country, ruled by a dictator, who carried things with a high hand for five or six years and got away with a lump of money just in time to avoid the revolution that his corrupt practices had evoked. The craft arrived after a fine run and was waiting to haul into the wharf when an official came aboard and demanded a bonus of $1,000 for permission to land the cargo. This was in addition to customs dues and port charges and was directly from Don Castro. It was blackmail pure and simple, and Aunt Jane, as the captain's wife was generally called, said to her husband.

"Jabez Bebee, we won't pay it, and you tell him so straight from the shoulder. No, not a blessed penny!"

The captain braced up and became defiant, and Don Castro's messenger was sent away with a flea in his ear. It was the general opinion that the dictator would wilt. But the brig was held in the harbor for forty-eight hours on one pretense or another and was forbidden to haul into the wharf or set sail for another port. Then Jabez Bebee went ashore prepared to assert and maintain that the government represented by the eagle would stand no trifling with one of its representatives from Marblehead and in command of a new brig which had logged off seven knots an hour with her yards checked in. He had his thunder duly prepared and his lightning handy by, but he struck a snag almost at once. Don Castro was a man who would not stop to bluff the combined powers of the world if there had been $500 in sight for him. The wily old rascal also thoroughly understood statecraft and the number of years that would slip by while the offended government was making an official investigation into one of his acts, official or private.

"Pay me a thousand dollars and you can land your cargo," was his answer to Captain Bebee.

Captain Bebee came aboard with a long face, and in reply to his wife's query he explained what had taken place ashore. The matter was talked over for an hour, and it was finally decided that the captain should go ashore again and try to buy Don Castro off for a smaller sum. If he pleaded poverty and indulged in no further bluffs it was hoped that the dictator's heart might be softened into accepting about $600. It was about 4 o'clock when he was pulled ashore again, and two hours later word was sent us by Don Castro that Captain Bebee was in jail on the very serious charge of trying to bribe the very highest officials of the country. When Aunt Jane had got the situation straight in her mind she promenaded up and down with her lips puckered up. At the end of about ten minutes she walked up to the mate with her face as hard as stone and said:

"Look here, Samuel Davis Smithers, are you a man or a scarecrow?"

"I'll stand by you in any plan you've got," replied the mate.

"And how about the rest of 'em?"

"They'll follow me to a man."

The crew was called aft, and Aunt Jane detailed her plan. As a result they lifted anchor and sailed out of the harbor about an hour before sundown. The brig ran down the coast fourteen miles and came to anchor in a bay resorted to by the dye craft, and all that night every man of the crew was kept hard at work. While the carpenter cut gun ports in the bulwarks for four guns on a side men went ashore and brought off eight logs to represent cannons. These were stripped of their bark, painted black and rudely mounted, and, though the sailors were bunglers at the business, they gave the Jane Bebee a man-of-war look to make you thrill. Viewed from a distance of half a mile the Quaker guns looked ready to spout flame and smoke and round shot as big as beer kegs, and Aunt Jane rubbed her hands and smiled and said, "Now for the rest of it."

One of the crew had a drum and another a fife and a third a concertina, and they were tolled off as the band. From the slop chest and fo'castle they got enough garments to rig up a dozen dummies and make them fast to the bulwarks here and there, and they set sail on their return to the port. Straight up the harbor sailed the Jane Bebee an hour after sunrise, but she was barely broadside to the town and her anchor down before a boat pulled off from the mob with a flag of truce flying. In that boat sat Captain Bebee, who had been set at liberty with many apologies.

"Jane," said Captain Bebee as the brig cleared the harbor and the wooden guns were tumbled overboard, "you are a mighty smart woman, but I can't just understand it. How in the name of Goshen did you get the idea? I talked and threatened and blustered and bluffed, but"—

"But a woman never bluffs," she interrupted. "No, Jabez Bebee, when a woman starts out to do anything she does it, even if she has to walk all over the onion beds in the garden. And now I think you had better wash your hands and face and comb your hair and get ready for dinner."

For Douches

In the local treatment of woman's ills, such as leucorrhoea and malamation, hot douches of Paxtine are very efficacious. No woman who has ever used medicated douches will fail to appreciate the clean and healthful feeling Paxtine produces and the comfort and relief from offensive and discomfort which follows use. This is because Paxtine possesses superior cleansing, disinfecting and healing properties. For many years the Lydia E. CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR CONVENTION

The Westmoreland County Christian Endeavor convention which will be held in the Reformed church, Irwin, June 10 and 11 promises to be the biggest and best ever held in the county. For the first time in its history the county will have the honor of the presence of a national officer in the person of Mr. Karl Lehman, of the United Society of Christian Endeavor at Boston. This number, itself will make it worth while attending the convention. Another strong feature of the program is Dr. Chas. Shelton of Pittsburgh, who is in thorough touch with the work and who is a minister of nation-wide reputation. Delegates and pastors from all the Christian Endeavor socieites of the county will be present and not only Endeavorers, but all young people of the community, especially those interested in young people's work, whether in the Epworth League, the Young People's Christian Union, the Luther League, the Baptist Young People's Union or any other society, all who are young in spirit are invited to attend any or all of the sessions.

The delegates will be met at the trains by the live joint Glad Hand committees of the Presbyterian and Reformed scocieties and hustled up to the Convention church, where they will receive their assignments.

A sight seing auto tour is being arranged for the delegates and a recreation period of one hour is planned for a fresh air trip to the new Jersey Cereal Food Co.'s plant, the products of which is making Cereal so famous.

The social committees of the two C. E. societies of the town are getting their heads together, and something different in the line of church socials is likely to be pulled off.

The people in general of the town are asked to co-operate in any way they can, especially by showing the strangers a cheerful and pleasant welcome.

Pay Last Respects To Murdered Woman

Many who knew her and many former friends and girlhood companions attended the sad funeral of Mrs. William Kuhn at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Richards, Saturday evening to pay a last farewell to the departed woman. The funeral was an especialy sad one, owing to the sad circumstances which surrounded the taking off of the young woman. The body was taken to Monongahela Sunday morning where interment was made.

Kuhn who fired the bullet that killed his wife is still in the Mercy hospital and will recover. When he will be removed from the institution has not been announced. As yet he has made no statement other than to blame the trouble on drink. As soon as released from the hospital, a charge of murder will be lodged against him.

TO HELP MEN ON GOOD ROADS DAY

Women Suffragists Will Supply Lunches to All Volunteer Workers

BELIEVE IN BETTERMENTS

And Will Prove It With Lunch Baskets When the Noon Whistle Blows

Harrisburg, May 17.—Pennsylvania's women suffragists will do their part to assure the State-wide success of "Good Roads Day" on May 26th. They will provide refreshment to all the hungry and blistered male citizens who wield shovel and pick that day in the interests of better public roads. In every township where the masculine population turns out for "road duty," a band of the local suffragists will be on hand with baskets of sandwiches and buckets of cooling draughts. And whether "pro" or "anti" in his beliefs on "votes for women," each individual worker will find a smiling suffragist ready to cater to the inner man when the noon whistle blows.

The story of the suffragists' desire to help in the improvement of the public highways is best told, perhaps, in the letter which has just been sent to their County and City Chairmen by Miss Hannah J. Patterson, State Chairman of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Party. In this letter Miss Patterson says:

"The Governor has fixed May 26th as a State-wide Good Roads Day, and has called upon men, women and children to help. As all suffragists are deeply interested in the development of Pennsylvania, this opportunity to co operate in the improvement of the State will appeal to all our women.

"The State Highways Department suggests that the best way for the women to help is in providing lunches for the workers along the highway Will you please appoint a committee to confer with the township roads supervisors as to how to best co-operate in your immediate location.

"The State Highways Department further says: 'You needn't cook a great big dinner; you needn't make a market basket full of sandwiches; you needn't brew a dozen gallons of tea or coffee. But you can furnish a ham, several loaves of bread, buckets of cool spring water with dippers in them, and you and the children can carry this to the nearest point beneath the shade trees along the road at the noon hour and call the workers from their toil to partake of refreshments.'"

As the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association has active local organizations in every county in the State and as the members of these locals are intensely interested in all propositions that tend to bring about civic, county or State improvements, it is assured that there will be a big response on the part of the women to the call for their co-operation on Good Roads Day. Judging from the early responses already received at State Headquarters, none of the men who help repair the public roads that day need worry about where their lunch is coming from.

CONVERTED RABBI IS INTERESTING

The Rev. Dr. Wertheimer, converted Jewish Rabbi, who has been holding gospel services at the Baptist church concluded his mission last evening. In the morning he preached a very helpful and inspiring sermon on "Saintship" and in the afternoon his theme was "Russelism." There was a large and attentive audience which listened with rapt attention as he pointed out the heresies of this Christ dishonoring and unscriptural belief.

At the evening service the subject was "The Story of My Conversion to Christianity" which was well received by the large attendance which packed the building to its limit. He referred to his early life and also to the time when he was a Rabbi in Dayton, O. But there came a dissatisfaction that his belief and teaching were all wrong and God opened his eyes to receive the Messiah as the Christ. There was nothing in Judiasm to give him the hope and optimistic feeling that there was in Christianity.

Dr. Wertheimer is a polished scholar and one of the greatest Bible teachers of the day. Many were the regrets that he was going away and all hope that he will be back soon again.

Editor the Independent:

I write to inquire why people living in the vicinity of Donner avenue and Second street have to be annoyed with a dog pound in front of their homes?

Such annoyances as we were subjected to yesterday all day long and in fact ever since the dog catchers started in is more than we can understand. Is there no place out of the way to put these dogs until they are disposed of? And also shouldn't they have a little food and water They were neither fed nor watered yesterday and hadn't enough ventilation to keep them alive. We wonder who is mangaing the dog affairs of the borough. If this communication doesn't give us relief, there is another way to get it, and we will use that way very shortly.

TO HELP MEN ON GOOD ROADS DAY

Women Suffragists Will Supply Lunches to All Volunteer Workers

BELIEVE IN BETTERMENTS

And Will Prove It With Lunch Baskets When the Noon Whistle Blows

Harrisburg, May 17.—Pennsylvania's women suffragists will do their part to assure the State-wide success of "Good Roads Day" on May 26th. They will provide refreshment to all the hungry and blistered male citizens who wield shovel and pick that day in the interests of better public roads. In every township where the masculine population turns out for "road duty," a band of the local suffragists will be on hand with baskets of sandwiches and buckets of cooling draughts. And whether "pro" or "anti" in his beliefs on "votes for women," each individual worker will find a smiling suffragist ready to cater to the inner man when the noon whistle blows.

The story of the suffragists' desire to help in the improvement of the public highways is best told, perhaps, in the letter which has just been sent to their County and City Chairmen by Miss Hannah J. Patterson, State Chairman of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Party. In this letter Miss Patterson says:

"The Governor has fixed May 26th as a State-wide Good Roads Day, and has called upon men, women and children to help. As all suffragists are deeply interested in the development of Pennsylvania, this opportunity to co operate in the improvement of the State will appeal to all our women.

"The State Highways Department suggests that the best way for the women to help is in providing lunches for the workers along the highway Will you please appoint a committee to confer with the township roads supervisors as to how to best co-operate in your immediate location.

"The State Highways Department further says: 'You needn't cook a great big dinner; you needn't make a market basket full of sandwiches; you needn't brew a dozen gallons of tea or coffee. But you can furnish a ham, several loaves of bread, buckets of cool spring water with dippers in them, and you and the children can carry this to the nearest point beneath the shade trees along the road at the noon hour and call the workers from their toil to partake of refreshments.'"

As the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association has active local organizations in every county in the State and as the members of these locals are intensely interested in all propositions that tend to bring about civic, county or State improvements, it is assured that there will be a big response on the part of the women to the call for their co-operation on Good Roads Day. Judging from the early responses already received at State Headquarters, none of the men who help repair the public roads that day need worry about where their lunch is coming from.

The Rev. Dr. Wertheimer, converted Jewish Rabbi, who has been holding gospel services at the Baptist church concluded his mission last evening. In the morning he preached a very helpful and inspiring sermon on "Saintship" and in the afternoon his theme was "Russelism." There was a large and attentive audience which listened with rapt attention as he pointed out the heresies of this Christ dishonoring and unscriptural belief.

At the evening service the subject was "The Story of My Conversion to Christianity" which was well received by the large attendance which packed the building to its limit. He referred to his early life and also to the time when he was a Rabbi in Dayton, O. But there came a dissatisfaction that his belief and teaching were all wrong and God opened his eyes to receive the Messiah as the Christ. There was nothing in Judiasm to give him the hope and optimistic feeling that there was in Christianity.

Dr. Wertheimer is a polished scholar and one of the greatest Bible teachers of the day. Many were the regrets that he was going away and all hope that he will be back soon again.

Editor the Independent:

I write to inquire why people living in the vicinity of Donner avenue and Second street have to be annoyed with a dog pound in front of their homes?

Such annoyances as we were subjected to yesterday all day long and in fact ever since the dog catchers started in is more than we can understand. Is there no place out of the way to put these dogs until they are disposed of? And also shouldn't they have a little food and water They were neither fed nor watered yesterday and hadn't enough ventilation to keep them alive. We wonder who is mangaing the dog affairs of the borough. If this communication doesn't give us relief, there is another way to get it, and we will use that way very shortly.
